The students in room 107 have gone through a few changes this school year. They are remaining flexible and adapting. Looking forward to the remainder of the school year, students will be engaged in various interactive and conversational Life Skills lessons that are designed to spark questions and exploration of topics. With Spring Break just around the corner, students will continue to be encouraged to work steady toward the completion of their academic work.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Students should miss no more than 9 days of school each year to stay engaged, successful and on track to graduation.
- Absences can be a sign that a student is losing interest in school, struggling with school work, dealing with a bully or facing some other potentially serious difficulty.
- By 6th grade, absenteeism is one of three signs that a student may drop out of high school.
- By 9th grade, regular and high attendance is a better predictor of graduation rates than 8th grade test scores.
- Missing 10 percent, or about 18 days, of the school year can drastically affect a student's academic success.
- Students can be chronically absent even if they only miss a day or two every few weeks.
- Attendance is an important life skill that will help your child graduate from college and keep a job.

What you can do to help your child be successful in school:

- Help your child get to school on time every day
- Follow the school's guidelines and attendance policy, and report excused absences immediately.
- Take an active role.
- Locate potential sources of anxiety.
- Keep updated on school events and announcements.
- Try to limit the amount of time that your child misses school due to medical appointments or illness.
